

THE MORNING AFTER (THE) CONTROVERSY

Diversity, Birth Control, and Religious Freedom

A Lecture by Stanley Carlson-Thies President, Institutional Religious Freedom Alliance

Why are colleges, companies, and charities suing President Obama about the Affordable Care Act? Is the controversy only about Catholics and birth control, or is there more to it? How can faith-based organizations maintain a distinctive mission and lifestyle in a pluralistic society? Dr. Stanley Carlson-Thies, former staff of the White House Office of Faith-Based and Community Initiatives, will discuss how the HHS Contraceptives Mandate represents a broad threat to the freedoms of faith-based hospitals, schools, social service organizations, and companies of conscience.

Tuesday, August 13 • 5PM - 7PM
Rayburn Office Building • Room 2226
FOOD AND DRINK PROVIDED

*Presented by the Center for Public Justice

Center for Public Justice is an independent, non-partisan organization faithfully living out God's call to promote public justice. Center for Public Justice's mission is to equip citizens, develop leaders, and shape policy.

